• Natural Interests

- Hemmed in Hollow - It is home to the tallest waterfall between the Appalachians and the Rockies. No official measurement but it is reported to be over 200 feet straight up.
- Lost Valley - This is a very clearly marked trail. This is what makes Arkansas the Natural State. There are two caves past the huge natural amphitheatre. At the end of the trail, the main cave has a spectacular indoor waterfall.
- Cotter Springs - The clear cold waters of the Cotter area produce trophy rainbow trout, brown trout, and cutthroat trout that attract fishermen from all over the world. If you get hot, jump into an icy cold natural spring.
- Buffalo National River - Known as America's first national river, it boasts 132 miles of beautiful scenic views. Great for canoeing, hiking, sight seeing, and camping (on your way to or from WABC).
- Table Rock Lake / Bull Shoals / Beaver Lake - Great area lakes full of fish, great beaches for swimming, lots of winds for sailing, and open waters for boating.
